CITY HALL BUSINESS

At the city hall yesterday morning there were signs of business picking up, but it proved only a flurry for when the dust of battle cleared away there had been only two convictions out of six tries, a percentage of only 333, figuring on basis of baseball averages of games won and lost.

Hector Devore, Jim Devore and Alonzo Baker, negroes were brought in on charges of disorderly conduct, but Hector went free according to the evidence while Jim and Baker were assessed $10 each or 30 days. Otto Davis and Alex Ramey, also negroes, were up on complaint of an automobile owner that they had used his car without permission, but it developed that they had been given permission to use the machine under certain conditions and, since not much damage was done, the negroes were dismissed.

CITY PRISONERS ON GANG

Chief Johnson of the police department and the city clerk were busy for a few minutes yesterday morning figuring out the total days of service on the county gang of prisoners sent from the city police court. It is the custom, the chief says, that when a prisoner is unable to pay his fine of the city court he is sent to the county gang to serve his time. Such cases have netted the county a total of 360 days service during the past year, ending June 1.

GRADUATES WITH HONORS
